How to create a food sharing

1. Shared food description

The information marked with  has to be filled in.

The food category, subcategory and type (as defined in the foodipedia catalogue) are optional.

The product unit describes what 1 share of the food is. Food units can be expressed as a number of grams, kg, litres, or pieces.

The price per unit can be expressed in EUR or USD.

The maximum number of food units that can be shared.
In this example 20 units of apples means 20 x 5kg, thus 100 kg.

A picture of the shared food can be uploaded (optional).

The section "When" specifies at least the date by when friends can subscribe.
Additionally, also the dates when delivery will start and end can be specified.
All dates are selected in a calendar.

The section "Where" specifies at least one location where the friends can come and pick up the food.
Up to 3 locations can be indicated.

Click this button to save the shared food.

2. Invite friends

Here you can invite also friends who are not yet My-Food-Web members.

When all friends are listed you can press either of the buttons "Send share invitations". All invited friends, both those with and without My-Food-Web account, will receive an email to notify them of the invitation.
The selected My-Food-Web friends are listed here.
Click this button to select a My-Food-Web friend for invitations.

3. The invited friends can subscribe

Invited friends subscribe for certain amounts of the shared food, but they are not allowed to order together more than the maximum available amount (number of food units).

For details about the way to subscribe, see next topic "How to subscribe to a shared food".

How to subscribe to a shared food

When a friend invites you to subscribe to a food he/she shares you receive a notification email. The email contains a link to the food share details, where you can directly subscribe.

Additionally you can see the active offers you are invited to in the screen below:
